Dear Nan,
 I guess you will always be a Nan just like I am a Nane.
 Remember those days at Campus school? How could we forget. Gee Nane you're one person I know I can brag about on stage I when you're on stage I will probably say I knew her. I am so glad you and Ray made it.
 I keep remembering the others.
 Keep up the terrific work.
 Loads of love

Nancy,

It's been a tremendous three years, I'm sorry it is so soon over.

As members of a Cappella Choir we've gotten something invaluable that I wish we could somehow repay but obviously cannot. It's been loads of fun and I think even Doc's had a ball.

We're all tremendously proud of you, Nancy, we know and will want to watch you become an even greater success.

All my love and luck, may God bless you,
Marilyn Schneider

Nancy -
The first time I met you was in our "soph" Biology class - that was really a riot. I'm proud to know you both as the sweet & all-american girl and the talented-plus and most likely to be famous girl that you are. You're pretty special so take care of yourself at school and always. Don't forget me - this summer I hope I'll see you, too. Ray

Well Nancy it was nice knowing in this first living tripping class, hope get along with Raynee this summer.
Bob & Alice.

Have a piece for me eh. Thanks for all the music given me since we've been in high school. I know you'll be even greater some day. Have loads of luck. Got Dad & Mom's love.

Dear Nan,
 We had so much fun together these last three years. We had so many wonderful memories to carry with us always. I know the door of the future is already open for you. Someday we'll have to get together and talk about old times and good friends to a wonderful girl

Carol

Nancy,
 Well these three years have been busy and challenging ones - but I must say that knowing is really an experience & honor. In the future I hope you continue to develop those marvelous musical talents of yours. Always the best to best.

Hi Nancy!
 It was fun getting to know you a little better this year. Best of luck in the future. I hope you continue to develop your musical ambition. Take it easy on Ray

Ed Wisniewski

Nancy

I am sure glad that you sat between Bobbi & I because if you didn't I would be the black! blue. We sure had fun in my 6th class and I hope you had fun in the future.

Foreword!

Another school year is drawing to a close, and another senior class is about to graduate. In a sense, the entire student body will be graduating this spring, for Oshkosh High will open the fall term at a new location.

At any commencement there are always mixed feelings: happiness at the thought of new horizons and bright tomorrows, and sadness at the end of an era. Since 1902, these high school buildings have been a place for students and faculty to work together and to play together; to build character and to develop personality; a place which has brought to many generations "the light and spirit of learning."

In the bright new school, the traditions of a new generation will be born, traditions linked with the ideals and achievements of those who have gone before. With a future firmly rooted in the past, our school will continue to move forward to better things.

Nanc,
Truly, I've had a lot of fun with you this year. Maybe I'll see you this summer
maybe not. Nevertheless, always stay cute + loose some -

-- Always,

Dear Misses David & Susan
I miss you so much and this spring has been a good one
for all of us
and in the future
I hope you will miss it.

The Board of Education Plans for Our Needs . . .

No school board ever has an easy job . . . there is always a problem, always a challenge, always the same struggle to provide the very best in housing, in equipment, and in instruction at a price the community can afford. From the beginning, Oshkosh school boards have met the same hurdles. Even a century ago, when life was supposedly much simpler, our high school became overcrowded. In 1863 it outgrew the rooms it was using at the Congregational church, and a movement was begun to build a new school on the present site for which the board had paid $4,500 in 1855. However, the proposal aroused such violent controversy that it wasn't until 1867 that the new school was actually built and ready for occupancy. ('Twas ever thus!)

As our town has grown, our school population has increased from one school with one teacher and a handful of pupils to fifteen public schools with 333 teachers and 7,777 students. For 113 years a succession of school boards . . . dedicated men and women . . . have met and solved the complexities of an ever-changing situation. The present board will officiate at the passing of still another milestone, the opening of the first completely new high school since 1902.

To borrow a phrase from a familiar television program, "Progress is our most important product"!

We Will Miss You

Dear Miss Larsen:

To those of us who have been fortunate enough to have been in your classes, you are one of the never-to-be-forgotten teachers. Always you have been keenly and sincerely interested in your pupils as individuals, realizing their limitations as well as their potentials, and helping them to develop accordingly . . . You have been generous in your praise and kind in your criticism, making us strive, constantly, to do better. With your method of teaching literature, you have kindled in us a desire to surround ourselves with the best of writing. You have set an example of poise, consideration, and wisdom that your students will always remember and try to follow.

Miss Larsen, the NOTEBOOK, on behalf of all your pupils, salutes you!

Dear Mr. Hielsberg:

To what kind of man do people refer as a "great guy"? Well, the kind of man who is always doing little things — or big things — for other people, things like offering his cottage for the faculty picnic, for instance, or lending a hand with a do-it-yourself project; the kind of man who can take over and organize things; the kind of man who really likes people and is friendly to everyone.

And to what kind of instructor do students refer as "a fine teacher"? Undoubtedly, to the kind who really "knows his stuff" and is able to get it across; the kind who is always willing to help a puzzled pupil; the kind who praises good work and suggests improvements on that which is not so good.

As a "great guy" and a "fine teacher," Mr. Hielsberg, the NOTEBOOK, representing the student body, hails you!

The Man at the Top

PERRY A. TIPLER
(Town of Clayton)

With the responsibility for fifteen schools, 333 teachers, and 7,777 students on his shoulders, our superintendent doesn't exactly have time on his hands. Even after school hours there are school board meetings, vocational board meetings, library board meetings, and just plain meetings. When he has a chance, however, he likes to be with his grandchildren whom, he says, he never spoils . . . (well hardly ever!) Mr. Tipler holds a B.S. from Carroll College and an M.S. from the University of Wisconsin.

The Man Who Sets Our School Policy

CARL TRAEGER
(Freeport, Ill.)

You might say that our principal has reached the top by "degrees": B.A. Lakeland College; M.A. University of Chicago; Ph.D. University of Wisconsin. With all the outside demands on a principal's time, Dr. Traeger doesn't have much chance to pursue many hobbies, but he does like sports (spectator now, he says), fishing, hunting, and being a good do-it-yourself man around the house.

VICE PRINCIPAL HOMER S. FRATT
(Burlington)

Our vice principal earned both his B.S. and M.S. degrees at the University of Wisconsin. After office hours, he sings in the church choir, works with the Youth Council, and ... goes fishing.

*Best of Luck,
H. Fratt*

JANE TRAVIS
(Oshkosh)

Secretary to the principal, Mrs. Travis has a variety of hobbies. Because her job keeps her hopping, her taste runs to quiet things like reading and music and gardening.

MARGARET OSBORN
(Newark, Ohio)

Mrs. Osborn is a secretary who likes to get more than just finger exercise, so she walks long distances every day. In addition she likes to cook, and, above all, she says, she likes animals.

PAULINE KLEVENO
(Oshkosh)

Miss Kleveno is secretary to the vice-principal and the attendance department. When she escapes from the cage, she likes to go golfing, boating, or fishing.

A graduate of Lawrence College with an M.A. from Northwestern University, Miss Haase came to our school as counselor and advisor to the Student Council. After a day of other people's problems, she likes to change the tempo by attending a play or a concert or a basketball game. With her, cooking is a fine art and she especially enjoys parties.

HELEN ALBINUSSEN

(Brooklyn, N.Y.)

Our keeper of the records in the attendance department says that her out-of-school activities center around her home, her church, and her work in PTA. However, Mrs. Albinussen admits that she does enjoy a good game of Sheephead.

*Good Luck
Helen Albinussen*

BYRON G. WEES

(Des Moines)

Mr. Wees, guidance counselor, graduated from Oshkosh State and earned his M.S. at the University of Wisconsin. His outside interests are really "outside" interests since he enjoys fishing and, as he puts it, "sports of all kinds."

...all over again, unless someday I meet you on stage somewhere! But I promise that I will if I can get that chance! Now is the time I

The People Who Lead the Way

As our last year at OHS draws to a close, let's think for a minute about the people who have made our education possible — our teachers. Throughout the years these teachers have given so much of themselves, their time, and their energies that each in his own way will become part of the wonderful memories we will always cherish.

It began in the year 1847 when Oshkosh had but one teacher for all the children of school age. Twenty years later, when the first school was built on the present site, there were four of them in the high school alone, and, by 1904, their number had increased to sixteen. Today, our faculty has more than eighty members.

Training requirements in the 1800's were low and many teachers had no more than a high school diploma. Each one, however, had to pass a rigid examination every year in order to have her license renewed. It wasn't until 1902 that graduation from a seminary, a college, or a university was demanded.

Yes, things were different in the old school, just as they are going to be different in the new one. But, whatever comes, we know that a staff of highly trained men and women will continue to give the students of Oshkosh High the kind of education they will need to meet the challenge of a changing world.

Nancy,
I have enjoyed your talents.
May you will go far. Luck need not be wished; you will do it with talents. Thank you!
Sharon Williams

WILLIAM ALLEN
(Marshfield)

A teacher of printing, Mr. Allen took his B.S. at Stout State College. He lists only one real hobby . . . photography.

A. J. BAUER
(Oshkosh)

Many of those forms you've had to fill out were printed under the direction of Mr. Bauer, who took courses at Stout to prepare him for the job. When he hasn't a "pressing" engagement, he likes to travel.

Mr. Betry and Mr. Baxter in the maintenance room . . . it's all in the spirit of research!

ARNO BADE
(Cochrane)

Mr. Bade, who earned both his degrees at the University of Wisconsin, teaches mathematics and descriptive chemistry. Whenever it's possible, he tries to get in some reading and to watch some sports events.

BERTRAM S. BAXTER
(Chicago)

Graduate of OSC, teacher of U.S. history, and sponsor of the stage crew, Mr. Baxter has an unusual hobby . . . he likes to cook. (It might help your chances for an A if you slip him a new recipe.)

FREDA BEBERFALL
(Philadelphia)

Our Spanish teacher, Mrs. Beberfall, got her bachelor's degree from the University of Michigan and her M.A. from Texas A.&I. In spite of four children to look after, she still finds time for swimming, reading, and listening to music.

DON L. BETRY
(Marshfield)

Biology and natural science are only part of his job since he also serves as JV football and baseball coach. When he gets time off, Mr. Betry likes to go hunting. His degree is from Central State College at Stevens Point.

KENNETH BIENDARRA
(Escanaba)

The new advisor to the INDEX came to our school from Carthage College to teach English and journalism. In addition to a fondness for sports, Mr. Biendarra has a strong interest in photography.

ARTHUR E. BOYD
(Fox Lake)

A Bachelor of Education from Oshkosh State, Mr. Boyd teaches machine shop. Even after hours, he enjoys being a handy do-it-yourselfer . . . when he isn't bowling or golfing, that is.

JAMES CROFT
(Vinton, Iowa)

Our band director has a bachelor's degree from Cornell College and an M.A. from Iowa State. Off the podium, he likes to potter around in his workshop making oboe reeds . . . or he might get in some golf or some fishing.

OLIVE DAVENPORT
(Kaukauna)

Miss Davenport, who teaches English and speech, graduated from Oshkosh State and took her M.A. at Northwestern. She is in charge of all speech contests at OHS as well as coach for our commencement speakers. She says she enjoys most people, the theatre, and bridge.

EVELYN DRAEGER
(Oshkosh)

Reading, music and golf are the outside interests of our dramatics coach and advisor to the Thespian Society. Miss Draeger, who also teaches classes in English, has a degree from Oshkosh State and has done some graduate work at Wisconsin.

DONALD E. ERICKSON
(Melrose)

With an M.S. from the University of Wisconsin, Mr. Erickson teaches physical education. It is a natural, then, for his outside interests to center around sports . . . chiefly hunting and fishing.

PATRICIA B. FAUST
(Oshkosh)

A graduate of LaCrosse State, Mrs. Faust teaches physical education and sponsors our group of cheerleaders. She says she spends her spare time "keeping the shack running smoothly" and riding the bus to games.

LEONE FENZL
(Oshkosh)

Teacher of Latin and advisor to Latin Club, Miss Fenzl graduated from OSC and earned her M.A. at Wisconsin. When she isn't dusting her fabulous collection of Hummel figures, she spends quite a bit of time as a "foreign correspondent" . . . that is, she writes to many people in other countries.

JAMES J. FLOOD
(Racine)

Mr. Flood went to LaCrosse for both his B.E. and M.S. degrees. He teaches physical education and coaches both JV football and swimming. For relaxation he reads, plays golf, and goes camping with his family.

HAZEL IRENE FOLTZ
(Wausau)

Miss Foltz holds a B.A. from Lawrence College, an M.E. from Southern California, and she teaches English. She is another who enjoys people and the theatre. In addition, she likes travel and working with flowers.

CURTIS R. GEHLING
(Oconto Falls)

Mr. Gehling, who holds an M.S. from Stout, teaches auto mechanics. When the last carburetor is adjusted, he heads for his north woods shack where he hunts and fishes.

ALMA GUNDERSON

(Mauston)

This teacher of tenth grade English has a lot of outside interests. She lists bridge, canasta, cribbage, work in church and civic groups, cottage life, and TV . . . but not westerns!

KENNETH H. HANSEN

(Rio, Wis.)

Coach of the tennis team and teacher of American problems, Mr. Hansen holds a B.E. from Oshkosh State. He likes travel, photography, and sports . . . spectator sports, he says.

EDWIN A. GROSSKOPF

(Wausau)

A member of the department of business education, Mr. Grosskopf is also business advisor to the NOTEBOOK and helps to keep that publication in the black. He likes sports and has just recently learned the joys of camping.

JAMES C. GROSSMAN

(Festus, Mo.)

Mr. Grossman is an art teacher with a B.A. and an M.A. from the University of Missouri. He insists that his profession is his hobby, running second only to his home and his family.

BARBARA HABSTRITT

(Maynard, Minn.)

To quote Miss Habstritt, she "teaches foods and related subjects," and her special interests are travel, sports, and music. She holds a B.S. in home economics from Stout.

EDWARD D. HALL

(Oconto)

Mr. Hall, B.E. Oshkosh State, Ph.M. Wisconsin, spends part of his day in the mathematics classroom and the rest of it on the playing field, either as line coach for football or head coach for track. Of course he enjoys all sports, he likes to read, and he is proud of his flower garden.

REXFORD W. HESS
(Poygan)

Mr. Hess graduated with a B.E. from Oshkosh State. He teaches social science and serves as advisor to the senior class. When it comes to outside activities, he said, "You name it . . . I like it." All right, Mr. H., how about embroidery?

FRANK L. HOFFMAN
(Rhinelander)

Besides teaching courses in mathematics, Mr. Hoffman is advisor to Pythagorean Council. His outside interests include mechanics and woodworking as well as bow and rifle hunting. He holds a B.E. degree from Central State College.

LORENZ O. HIELSBERG
(Ripon)

Perhaps Mr. Hielsberg's most interesting out-of-school activity is his work as Squadron Educational Officer for the U.S. Power Squadron. In school, he teaches cabinet making and sponsors the Shop Safety group. He holds a B.E. from OSC.

DAWN JOHNSON
(Sister Bay)

Home economics is her field and she earned her B.S. from Stout. Her "extra curricular activities aren't too different from her curricular ones for Miss Johnson has fun sewing for herself, for others, and for the operetta costumes. For variety, she enjoys sports and travel.

M. R. HYMER
(Potosi, Wis.)

Teacher of physics, Mr. Hymer also sponsors the Junior Academy of Science. He has quite a range of outside activities — electronics, photography, and gardening. His M.A. degree is from the State University of Iowa.

KENNETH A. JORSTAD

Born in one college town, Mr. Jorstad went to another, Whitewater, for his training. He earned his M.S. at Wisconsin. He is in charge of tickets for all athletic events and his John Henry goes on all checks from the athletic department. He relaxes with camping, golf, and fishing.

*Personal letter
1st Mr. Jorstad hope you enjoyed your sleep.
Kenneth A. Jorstad*

CATHARINE L. JOSSLYN

(Oshkosh)

In school, Miss Josslyn may be found in the periodical library surrounded by magazines. Out of it, she may be surrounded by detective stories or by fishing tackle . . . hardly ever by any fish. She is advisor to the NOTEBOOK and earned both her B.S. and M.A. degrees at Columbia.

GORDON J. KESTER

(Fremont)

Mr. Kester teaches mathematics, but he keeps in trim by rushing around with film and projectors as director of our audio-visual aids program. No wonder he enjoys quiet things like stamp collecting in his time off. His Ph.M. is from Wisconsin.

RODNEY W. KJELL

(Iron Mountain)

Electricity and electronics are Mr. Kjell's forte. Not only does he teach those subjects, but he is in charge of lighting and sound for school affairs. His pastimes are bowling, golf, and photography. He holds a B.S. from Stout.

KARINE T. KJOLSETH

(Stoughton)

With a B.E. from Whitewater, Miss Kjolseth teaches business education. But the typewriter is not the only keyboard with which she is familiar; she is equally at home at the console of an organ. In fact, she enjoys all kinds of handwork and takes an active interest in both ornithology and fishing.

ELIZABETH B. KONRAD

(Oshkosh)

Mrs. Konrad leads a double life as librarian and teacher of English. She also assists with the library club. Out of school, she is fond of travel, of reading, and of knitting.

LYNNE J. KOCH

(Madison)

He holds a B.S. and an M.S. from Wisconsin, and he teaches biology. Away from the lab., Mr. Koch enjoys reading, music, and sports.

EDNA F. KRATSCH
(Oshkosh)

Teacher of biology, Miss Kratsch has a Ph.B. from Wisconsin and an M.S. from the University of Chicago. She likes sewing and gardening, but she grabs every chance to get away to her cottage in northern Wisconsin and go canoeing.

LUELLA C. KRATSCH
(Oshkosh)

It's logical that a teacher of mathematics should like to play bridge . . . at least she can be sure of her count. In addition, she enjoys reading and relaxing at her cottage. Mrs. Kratsch has a Ph.B. from Wisconsin.

ETHEL M. KUEBLER
(Oshkosh)

Mrs. Kuebler has a B.E. from Oshkosh State and she teaches English. Reading and gardening are her pet hobbies but she says she spends a lot of time with her hi-fi.

Mr. Grosskopf really keeps that front hall clear!

KARL KUSCHE
(Oshkosh)

Another hi-fi enthusiast, Mr. Kusche also likes to read, to fish, and to work in his garden. With an M.E. from Lawrence College, he teaches three kinds of drawing . . . mechanical, machine, and architectural.

GLADYS LARSEN
(Eau Claire)

Miss Larsen has an M.A. from Columbia University and she teaches English. While she likes to read and to garden, she combines her two pet hobbies, travel and photography, to give her friends many pleasant vicarious trips via her colored slides.

VERLIN LaMAY
(Eau Claire)

Fishing has always been Mr. LaMay's favorite sport, but he says that now he will have to concentrate on the grave responsibility of being a dutiful husband. He has an M.S. from Wisconsin and teaches both biology and descriptive chemistry.

NAN LaMAY
(Berlin)

Teacher of English, she holds two bachelors' degrees, one from Wisconsin and one from OSC. She came to us last year as Miss Bachkal, but she got her third bachelor during the summer and is now Mrs. LaMay. She lists sailing and swimming as her favorite pastimes.

*Best Wishes!
Grace M. LaVoy*

FRED LEIST
(Milwaukee)

Our director of choral music got his B.S. from Wisconsin and his M.M. from McPhail College. He lists golf as his outside interest, but we have a hunch that there is never a musical program in Oshkosh that doesn't find Mr. Leist in the audience.

RUTH V. LEDWELL
(New London)

With a B.E. from Oshkosh State and a Ph.M. from Wisconsin, Miss Ledwell teaches both biology and natural science. Her favorite recreation is travel, but she also likes reading, music, and plays.

(Marinette)

Miss LaVoy has a wide range of interests — golf, photography, gardening, reading, and sewing. On the job, however, she teaches Latin. She has a B.S. from Oshkosh and a Ph.M. from Wisconsin.

MILDRED J. LEYDA
(Rock Island, Ill.)

Miss Leyda has a B.A. from Lawrence College and an M.A. from Wisconsin. In the classroom she teaches English and creative writing. Out of it she continues her interest in the creative by doing needlepoint. She's a puzzle fan and every summer she does tricky things with a rod and reel.

ALMA THERESE LINK
(Oshkosh)

Miss Link is co-sponsor of FTA and a teacher of English. She lists reading as her outside interest, but we happen to know she spends much of her time working with local, state, and national education groups. With an M.A. from the University of Iowa, she has done graduate work at Columbia.

Miss Davenport says: "Here I have your final final finals!"

EVERETT W. MARG
(Watertown)

A graduate of Whitewater with an M.A. from the University of Denver, Mr. Marg teaches business education. Also, he is supervisor of the school bank and placement director for business graduates. After hours his most important business is exercise . . . fishing, bowling, golf.

LOUIS D. MASON
(Chicago)

A new member of the business education department, Mr. Mason was immediately pressed into service as bookkeeper for the INDEX. He finds his recreation on the golf links or the bowling lanes. His B.E. is from Whitewater.

ROBERT A. MESSNER
(Milwaukee)

The orchestra and the Baker's Dozen are under the direction of Mr. Messner. His artistic talent spills over into his leisure time when he does oil painting. Boating is his favorite sport. His B.S. is from Milwaukee State and his M.S. is from Wisconsin.

FLOYD J. MILLER
(Arcadia, Wis.)

Mr. Miller teaches agriculture and sponsors the many activities of FFA. Out of school, he likes to go about collecting oil samples, he is active in youth work, and he does photography. His B.E. is from River Falls and his M.S. from Colorado.

JAMES F. MITCHELL
(Manawa, Wis.)

In addition to teaching mathematics, Mr. Mitchell serves as sponsor to the O'Neil Chapter of the National Honor Society. His hobbies include boating, gardening, and, particularly, remodeling. His M.S. is from Wisconsin.

HOWARD H. PENNEWELL
(Quincy, Ill.)

A graduate from Whitewater, Mr. Pennewell holds a B.E. degree in business education, and he teaches business law and business management. Also, he is business advisor to the INDEX. He is interested in conservation, in travel and in color photography.

"Enough is enough" as Mr. Pennewell warns Mr. Fratt.

BERNICE PORTERFIELD
(Oconto)

Reading, traveling, music, and the theatre are logical interests for a member of the English department and Miss Porterfield enjoys them all, as well as her memberships in her clubs. Her B.A. is from Lawrence College and her M.A. from Columbia.

HARLAN QUANDT
(Woodland, Wis.)

A triple threat man, Mr. Quandt coaches baseball, sponsors MIAA, and teaches physical education. To keep in trim, he bowls, golfs, fishes, and officiates at football games. His B.S. is from Wisconsin.

DOROTHY ROLLINSON
(Minneapolis)

With a B.A. from Lawrence, an M.A. from Northwestern, and a B.L.S. from Wisconsin, Miss Rollinson became the librarian at our school as well as advisor to the Student Library Service Club. She lists a variety of hobbies . . . travel, reading, sewing, and gardening.

RUTH I. RUDOLPH
(Sturgeon Bay)

Our school nurse, who came to us this fall, is a graduate of the Milwaukee Hospital School of Nursing and holds a B.S. from Marquette. She lists her family as her chief outside interest, but Mrs. Rudolph also tries her hand at interior decorating.

Magistra
Fenzl
el discipuli

JOAN SCHATZKA
(Adams, Wis.)

Miss Schatzka earned her B.S. degree at Whitewater State. She teaches business education and acts as co-sponsor to FBLA. She says that her favorite pastime is playing the piano and the organ.

JOSEPHINE SCHNEIDER
(Oshkosh)

Co-sponsor of FTA, Miss Schneider is a teacher of psychology with an M.S. degree from the University of Southern California. A partial list of her hobbies includes reading, traveling, and working in her garden.

M. R. SCHNEIDER
(Milwaukee)

Mr. Schneider, M.S. from Wisconsin, teaches English. On his questionnaire he simply drew a wavy line in the space provided for hobbies. That could be (1) a worm . . . he likes to fish, or (2) a snake . . . he's a herpetologist. Take your choice.

E. W. SCHULTZ

A graduate of Oshkosh state with a B.E. degree, Mr. Schultz teaches Chemistry. Away from his test tubes and Bunsen burners, he likes fishing and gardening.

AUGUST J. SCHULZ

(Oshkosh)

Teacher of driver education and assistant football coach, Mr. Schulz has a B.S. from Stout and an M.A. from New York University. He wrote that his chief interest outside of school was to enjoy life . . . by taking long drives in the car, maybe???

HAROLD SCHUMERTH

(DePere)

Mr. Schumerth's interests are diversified both in and out of school. He teaches mathematics, coaches football, and serves as athletic director. On his own time he enjoys music, hunting, and fishing. His B.A. is from St. Norbert's while his M.A. is from Notre Dame

ESTHER SCHLERF

(Oshkosh)

An alumna of Central State College, Miss Schlerf has a B.Ed. degree. She teaches home economics with the emphasis on foods. Handcraft is her hobby but she loves to travel and to prepare illustrated travelogs of her trips. (Program chairmen please note.)

SYDNEY SCOVILLE

(Kenosha)

An outdoor man, Mr. Scoville's recreation program reads as follows: camping, fishing, eating, resting . . . in that order. He teaches woodworking, has a B.S. from Stout, and has done graduate work at both Stout and Wisconsin.

GRETCHEN SIEBERT

(Oshkosh)

Miss Siebert earned her B.E. at LaCrosse and her M.A. at Northwestern. She teaches physical education and sponsors both GAA and swimming. Her outside interests, too, are in sports . . . sailing, swimming, skiing, golf . . . but she also is especially fond of music.

PEGGY J. SIMPSON
(Decatur, Ill.)

Our brand new French teacher has a B.A. from Milwaukee Downer College with additional travel and study in France. Miss Simpson lists her hobbies as reading, travel, and listening to music.

RUSSELL A. SPAULDING
(Pulaski)

Mr. Spaulding, who teaches U.S. history and American problems, has a B.S. from OSC and an M.A. from Colorado State. His hobbies are as varied as his classroom activities for he enjoys fishing, stock car racing, and botany.

G. J. STEFFENSON
(Racine County)

A graduate from Milwaukee State (now UWM), Mr. Steffenson holds a B.E. degree. He teaches biology. No matter what the season, he will head for his cottage in northern Wisconsin to hunt or fish or hike or take pictures.

GERALD SWARTZ
(White Pigeon, Mich.)

Mr. Swartz teaches world history and has a B.S. degree from Ashland College, Ohio. When asked to name his hobbies, he simply said that he spends his leisure hours in "the pursuit of happiness."

GARTH SPEES
(Mauston, Wis.)

There's never a dull moment for Mr. Spees (B.S. Central State College). He teaches two varieties of geography as well as U.S. history. In addition he coaches JV basketball and assists with track. Whenever there's a lull, he likes to go hunting or fishing.

GERTRUDE C. THUSS
(Marshfield, Wis.)

Miss Thuss, a member of the English department, is an alumna of Lawrence College where she earned her B.A. degree. Her hobbies are reading, cooking, and sewing . . . (stitching up a minimum essentials, no doubt!)

We can almost hear Miss Thuss muttering, "Dig that dangling participle."

ESTHER TILLESON
(Menominee, Wis.)

She is a teacher of geography and U.S. history who enjoys reading and listening to good music as much as she has always liked hiking, fishing, and travel. Since earning her B.E. at OSC, Miss Tilleson has done graduate work at Northwestern.

J. MERLE TODD
(Elba, Minn.)

She hopes some day to have time really to work at her two favorite hobbies, photography and stamp collecting. Right now she finds relaxation in knitting, and flower gardening. Miss Todd, who teaches mathematics, holds a B.S. from the University of Minnesota and has done graduate work at Wisconsin.

LEE F. WEIGERT
(Iron River, Mich.)

Swimming, camping, fishing, photography, and rock collecting seem like the right combination of hobbies for a man who spends his working hours teaching psychology. Mr. Weigert holds a B.S. from Milwaukee State and an M.S. from Wisconsin.

JOSEPH VOGT
(Butternut, Wis.)

Mr. Vogt teaches chemistry, descriptive chemistry, and physics, and he has a B.S. degree from Superior State. He's a dog lover and a sportsman, especially when it comes to hunting, fishing, bowling and golf.

RUTH A. VORPAHL
(Beaver Dam)

A Jill of many trades, Miss Vorpahl teaches business education, is co-sponsor of FBLA, dramatic coach for the operetta, and business manager for all dramatic productions. No wonder that in her time off she prefers something quiet like playing the organ. She earned her B.A. degree at Augustana College.

HUGH WILLIAMS
(Nekimi)

A member of the mathematics department, Mr. Williams holds a B.E. degree from Oshkosh State. His hobbies are sports, travel, and, more recently, real estate.

Mr. Williams takes a breather.

MARILYN WILLE
(Berwyn, Ill.)

Mrs. Wille teaches English and is advisor to the Drama Club. It figures that her special outside interest is working on stage with the Community Players. Also, she likes to play the piano and to watch polo games. Her B.A. degree is from Elmhurst College, but she has done graduate work at Wisconsin.

JOHN ZEINERT
(Neenah)

After tackling American problems or those important dates in U.S. history all day, Mr. Zeinert goes home to a honey of a hobby . . . bee-keeping. Oh, yes, he likes photography, too. His B.S. is from Oshkosh State.

Miss Johnson helping Kay Monday who is all cut up about the whole thing.

Underclassmen on Their Way Up

From the old to the new...from the familiar, over-crowded classrooms, the warped floors, and the staggered schedules to the modern efficiency of a completely new building...this is the transition that the students of OHS will be making next September.

Our school has come a long way since 1850 when there were only 248 children of school age in the entire system and the elective courses were limited to Greek, Latin, astronomy, moral science, geology, botany, and philosophy. Today there are 1,724 in the high school alone, and the variety of courses is endless. . . . There's been a striking change in the school library, too. Back in 1854, it boasted exactly twenty-one volumes. We began this year with, roughly, twelve thousand textbooks and ten thousand volumes in the reference library in addition to hundreds of magazines and pamphlets. . . . Perhaps the most welcome change from our point of view has come in the matter of the summer vacation. A century ago it ran for just six short weeks!!

And what of the future? We know that our school will continue to grow, to improve, and to present new challenges. But today's students will find that leaving an old building behind is a transition in environment only, for wherever they work together, play together, and enjoy the privilege of learning together, there is the spirit that is Oshkosh High!

WARRIS BOARDING HOUSE

Activities Are Fun

High school is a lot more than homework, classes, and tests . . . more, even, than games and pep meetings and plays. It offers the fun of working together, the friendships, and the opportunity for service to the school to be found in a wide variety of clubs.

Throughout the years there have been many such clubs at OHS. In addition to the groups pictured on these pages, there were the English clubs, Onawah, Alpha Kappa, and Theta Epsilon, there was Izaak Walton for boys who liked to hunt and fish, and Pi Tau Beta for boys who emphasized the academic side of school. There was the OHS Forum for debaters, Gamma Sigma Kappa for vocational guidance, Modern Language for French and Spanish students, Shop Safety Committee, Safety Council, and a club for all who were interested in art. They were active groups, too, and gave the school many high moments, what with Mother's Day teas, "great debates," spelling bees, and pep skits.!

The coming of the shift system with its staggered times for dismissal changed the whole picture. While the clubs that remain are strong organizations and make a real contribution, we are all hoping that in the new school with its improved facilities, many of the former clubs will be re-instituted so that more and more of us can know the fun of "belonging"!

The Play

As the curtains opened on the first Drama Club production of the year, Peter Marshall was doing what he liked best, singing with the young people's group from his church.

This play, taken from the book, A MAN CALLED PETER, by Catherine Marshall, was part of the story of a Scottish immigrant who came to America, became pastor of a large church in Washington, D.C., and was eventually elected Chaplain of the United States Senate. Mrs. Marshall was Peter's main help in convincing the Bickle sisters that their nephew, Allan, was not the rebellious young boy they thought him to be. How Peter helped others besides the Bickles made for an intriguing story.

The play closed as Peter was convalescing from a heart attack. He was once more singing with the young people's group from the church, proving that once again all was right with the world.

The Story

This is the story of Cap'n Andy, his Mississippi Showboat, his wife, his daughter, and the gambler who fell in love with her. After their marriage he carried Magnolia off to Chicago where they lived in luxury or in want, according to Ravenal's run of luck. Feeling that he had been a failure, the gambler left his wife and their child and it wasn't until five years later that Cap'n Andy reunited them on the Showboat.

One of the unusual things about the production is the fact that it was presented in the theatre-in-the-round.

Music, Music, Music!

Music enriches the lives of all the people it touches . . . whether they are performers or simply part of an audience . . . and our school offers many opportunities for such enrichment.

From the four choirs listed here, a number of smaller groups have been formed — Sweet Sixteen, Teen Tones, and the Madrigal Singers, to name just a few — and they all combine to give us many memorable programs throughout the year. The professional quality of their work is due to the never-ending efforts of our choral director, Mr. Leist.

Melody Makers

For many years instrumental groups at OHS have been thrilling music lovers in Oshkosh as well as audiences in other communities, and this year has been no exception. The orchestra and the concert band have added many awards and trophies to their already impressive collection, and the varsity band did more than its share to make Homecoming the exciting event that it was. Mr. Messner and Mr. Croft are, even now, planning big things for the first year in our new school.

Founded in 1925, STUDENT COUNCIL'S chief function used to be to promote various kinds of social activities — activities designed to raise money to help erase the debt on our athletic field. By 1930, however, it was decided that such an organization should have a more serious purpose, should promote in all ways the best interests of the school.

Perhaps the Council's most exciting project is the sponsorship of our school's part in the very successful American Field Service program.

National Honor Society Members Are the Tops

SEATED: Bette Schneider, Jean Juedes, Paulen Emrich, Lynne Loots, Barbara Reinich, Phyllis Wojahn, Kristy Frank STANDING: Ann Reinke, Robert Dahl, Jeffery Yarne, Steven Cowan, Clairanne Scoville, ADVISOR . . . Mr. Mitchell.

A chapter of the NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY was formed at OHS back in 1926. In 1930 the name was changed to honor a much-loved principal, A. B. O'Neil, although the requirements for membership remained the same. Then, in 1959, it was decided to return the group to national status and so it became the O'Neil chapter of NHS. Its members are chosen by the faculty for their qualities of scholarship, leadership and citizenship, and to be named to the society is the highest honor within the gift of our school.

As a group they carried through two important projects this year, the homecoming dance and the annual elections for class officers.

Here are the career men and women of tomorrow. First known as the Mercury Club back in 1921, FBLA later was called Commercial Club and continued under that name for many years. Eventually, however, it became affiliated with the national organization whose purpose is to promote interest in the business world, to encourage social contacts among business students, and to discover and serve the needs of the community.

Membership is open to anyone who has carried or is carrying two or more commercial subjects and who has maintained at least a C average.

Drama Club Keeps Us Entertained

Back in 1915, when DRAMA CLUB got its start, it was small and made up entirely of senior girls who had earned a grade of 90 in 11A English. Here is a quote from the INDEX at the time: "To be sure, our school doesn't have the best facilities for such a venture, but we know that within a very few years we will have a brand new auditorium where plays can be presented to better advantage." (This was 1915!) Nevertheless, Drama Club grew rapidly. It became an all-school, co-educational organization called Masque Club. In fact, we had both Junior and Senior Masque, and between them they gave us many fine evenings in the "theatre."

Today we again have one Drama Club, but with a difference. It is now affiliated with the National Thespian Society. Thespian membership is based on a system of points given for work done in dramatics, both in front of the curtain and behind it. One becomes a Thespian at 10 points, a star at 30, and an Honor Thespian at 60. So far, Bob Sphatt is the only one in our chapter to hold that rating.

This group was organized in 1930 with Miss Todd as its first advisor. It used to sponsor a spelling bee each year and it also took an active part in school debates. With the coming of the staggered system, these activities had to be temporarily abandoned, but the club continues to promote the algebra and geometry awards which are given to top students in those fields.

Lends a Helping Hand

Established in 1942, Junior Red Cross has given real service at home and abroad. They have made endless scrapbooks for service men, knit sweaters for them, and, one year, filled a request for 300 gifts — all gaily wrapped — to be sent to the armed forces. In addition, they have sent seeds to England and a chest to a section in Greece suffering from a volcanic eruption.

On the home front, the group has worked with the Children's home, the Home Benevolent Society, and with the hospitals. It has served the blood banks and members who were old enough have been donors. Nationally, the chapter has sent 1,283 different items to disaster areas. This is truly a service group in every sense of the word!

Latin Club Members Do As the Romans Do

REGALIS ORDO ROMULI was organized in March, 1940. Its purpose was, and still is, to create an awareness of the Roman contribution to the world today and to re-live the customs and activities of that civilization. A fall highlight of the club has always been the Roman Circus, complete with chariot races and "bloody" gladiatorial combats. But again the staggered system took its toll, and R.O.R. has been able to continue only one of its "spectaculars." Each spring everyone dons his very best toga and attends a lavish Roman Banquet.

Future Teachers Meet the Challenge of Tomorrow

The American system of public education rests upon ideals set forth by Horace Mann who is known as the father of the public school system. He began his great work as secretary of the Massachusetts Board of Education in 1837. It was during the centennial of that event that F.T.A. was established under the leadership of the National Education Association. The Marion Palmer Peake chapter in our school was chartered ten years ago and was named for a beloved teacher of English who was at OHS for nearly fifty years.

Girls' athletics have always been important in our school and, for many years there was an organization called (believe it or not) the "Girls' Muscle Building Society"! It was not until 1929, however, that the GIRLS' ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION really came into its own as a club created for the specific purpose of teaching girls both individual and team sports and to develop in them the qualities of good sportsmanship.

S. L. S. C. Members Are at Our Service

Our library club was formed in 1955 after some of our students attended a library assistants' convention at the college. At first, membership was open to the student body and the meetings consisted largely of literary programs. This group chose the name Lambda Beta. In 1957 the name was changed to Student Librarians' Club and membership was limited to those who serve the library. A final name change came in 1958 when the group became the STUDENT LIBRARIANS' SERVICE CLUB. Although the members do have their lighter moments, their serious objectives have remained unchanged and their emphasis is on service to the school.

The Index Keeps Us "in the Know"

The INDEX has come a long way from the first thin booklet published in 1903 to the sparkling paper it is today. For many years it was a monthly magazine with the emphasis on literary "gems" and humorous pieces. Even after it became a paper it was expanded twice a year to include pictures of graduates, clubs, and teams. In 1945 it was decided to establish a separate annual publication and allow the INDEX to carry on its true function as a school newspaper.

We think you may enjoy a quote or two from that first issue: "The football season has not been a success either financially or in victories." "At the halloween party in the high school gym, the music for dancing was furnished by an accomplished pianist who graciously obliged with several encores." "The fourteen members of the senior class spent an enjoyable evening playing 'Pass the Smile' " . . .!!!

The Notebook Holds Our Cherished Memories

The NOTEBOOK was born — of necessity — in 1947 because it was discovered that to have two completely different publications with the same name was utterly confusing. It was a thin volume, that first NOTEBOOK, thin and small and printed in brown ink on tinted paper. It had a light blue paper cover and a loose-leaf binding. In fact, it wasn't until 1955 that the annual grew up to a bound book with a stiff cover and for that one the cover material was donated by the Oshkosh Overall Company. We hope you will like this 1961 edition and that it will bring you many hours of happy recollection.

Dear Mom

I have really enjoyed getting to know this year. You have a wonderful talent and you will always make me music you have a fabulous personality. Allow sweet to everyone. Always stay this

Time
A white gull glides majestically over the towering stone pyramids created by ancient man. A beat, a shout, and Apollo's messenger is seen. His silvery-tipped wings suggest splendor, his sudden absence of motion suggest endless grace. The earth is still and worshipping, for this is the symbol of life.

A white gull moves silently over the gray steel framework of modern man. His white pureness is barely noticed, his graceful flight, quite unseen. How ironic it is that this pale creature should be silently ignored in man's supposed progress, while a cold oracle of steel is revered. For this bird who was created out of an infinite love shall still render its beauty to the world when man's noblest endeavor lies crumbling in the dust.

P.S. Take it easy

White As Snow

Tossing, endless blankets of untouched snow falling,
falling,
then settling in wind-swept waves
it covers all,
the supreme ruler for
one night.

The world awakens and is sovereign, again,
crunching
shoveling;
the chimneys belch forth
soot
covering all,
covering the brilliant holiness
of snow

So much alike we are at birth
to snow,
unsullied,
innocent;
then people, ideas, the world belch forth sin
covering all,
until a new generation
is born.

Elements of Life

What is the sky but a blanket of protection upon the earth?
What are the stars but hosts of lights showing the way?
The moon is a ruler and chief of all stars. "Light! Light! Light!
but none brighter than I."
What is the rain but tears from above?
Clouds are a fluff of ecstasy shielding the heavens from sight.
The sun is a guardian, intense and powerful, a mighty king.
What is the wind but a ghost of God?
What can thunder be but a warning from thence: a violent roar.
The earth is a castle that lodges its people. It has its own play yards and work grounds, a completeness for life.
The ocean is a moat to this castle that keeps out the unwanted guests.
A mountain? A towering guard who watches all and yields to few.
And I? A pawn in the chamber as expendable as snow is to sun.

Reflection

From beneath the pond of frozen hope,
 Man casts a myopic eye through the swirling ripples
 Which widen like a flawless pirouette.
 He sees himself as through a terrarium with the boundaries shaken off and the contents
 Laid bare to all who care to watch.
 With the bonds of hate cast aside, he sees
 With crystalline clearness what has Befallen the master race; with the shackles
 Of indifference thrown off, he rests on the Terrazzo of conformity and expounds on his downfall.
 The waves of failure spray their vengeance upon
 His unfeeling face, their latent powers
 Disturbing his pose but little.
 As they recede from his prostrate body,
 He does not notice. The removed know nothing.

Dear Fran,
 Well it's over, and now
 You on your own, many of the kids will never forget you, I shall never either of course.
 That's beside the point!
 To the most wonderful graduate and nicest
 woman I know.

Love as Always,
 Jim

Waiting

We wait . . .
 We wait for things to come,
 And things to be;
 We wait for people,
 And ourselves.
 We wait for a certain day;
 We wait for an hour;
 We wait for a person
 Who should come
 But who might not.
 We want to wait,
 Yet we are impatient
 And eager
 And uncertain.
 We are spring
 Waiting for summer,
 And autumn
 Waiting for winter.
 Yet, when death claims us,
 Suddenly,
 Swiftly,
 We are surprised,
 And we realize
 We have been waiting
 In vain.

Conversation Piece

She tried discussing politics;
 She saw it was no go.
 She then put in some funny jokes
 And talked about a show.
 Book, the weather — these she tried;
 Her brightest stories withered,
 died.
 And then she switched; she caught his whim.
 The answer? She just talked of him!

As Ever, Paris

Paris is like a woman who Fears wrinkles and grey hair.
 She adorns herself elegantly with Eiffel Towers, gay markets,
 Unforgettable art galleries,
 Bubbling champagne,
 Fragrant perfume,
 And Dior's fashions
 To please the world
 As it grows old.

An Old Man

The old man, tanned and cured by the sun and heat, and tempered by the passing of the years, sits remembering when the first shifting of the core within began to prepare the ground for the mountain. He recalls the days of change as he became a man. As the tiny hill pushed above the surface, it strengthened itself with each new burst of energy from within. And then, almost before anyone realized it, the mountain became part of the majestic scenery which makes up the whole, unrelenting, ever-changing earth — a compelling force which was soon to prove itself worthy of recognition in a world not willing to accept another crag.

The man is old now, like the mountain, worn and shaped by the wind, the rain, and the seasons. His character was built in much the same majestic way. And he is looked upon by another, a small hill just beginning to jut above the surrounding terrain. And he realizes that it took but a tiny spark to wake the huge mountain and send it upward in the right direction.

I Stand in Awe of the World

I stand in awe of the world,
And my heart cries tender tears
for it.
My soul trembles within me.
My spirit lies sick and weak.
I stand by his majesty, the ocean,
And with roaring, crashing words
He tells me endless stories of pitiful pain.
I stand at the foot of a mountain
And, while tears trickle down
its jagged cheeks,
It tells me of senseless sorrow.
I stand in a quiet meadow
While the wind whispers to me
Tales of torture,
With agonizing sobs.
I no longer stand in awe of the world,
But in pity.

Sandra Gehrke

Laugh, It Helps!

Laugh a little now and then;
It brightens life a lot.
You can see the brightest side
Just as well as not.
Don't go mournfully around,
Gloomy and forlorn,
Try to make your fellowmen
Glad that you were born.

Helen Raatz

Sonnet

A tiny, lucent mountain rill
it starts;
And, mischievously, as it spatters on
The noses of the drinking highland harts
It gurgles, "Hope I've annoyed
you, everyone."
It grows into a bubbling brook
that wends
Its rapid way 'mongst cranny
and tree root;
And to the saxifrage that o'er
it bend
It boasts, "I'll pull you in when time seems suit!"
It soon becomes a rushing river great
That roars, "I'll drown you men;
I'll flood you, land."
'Till suddenly it must disseminate
To tiny drops at mighty oceans hand.
"Though something grow to strength and quantity,
A stronger, greater thing there'll ever be.

Return of a Mother

It looked the same to me.
Oh, the cement steps had cracked
And the door hung by one hinge,
But the old grandfather clock
Still stood there against the wall.
The sparkling fireplace had long since grown cold,
And the ashes were scattered by the wind.
But what is that beside the aging
brick?
A dusty, red pillow and a book?
I climbed the rambling wooden stairs
And turned to the door at the end of the hall.
The knob was gone, the light no
longer burned,
And the glass of a broken window
lay shattered on the floor.
But the sun was shining there.
I turned to an aging baby crib,
With its scratched decal,
And dingy blankets turned half down.
As if waiting.
And I waited, too.
Soon, I heard the baby feet
Plodding down the hall.
A hand upon the knob (but the knob was gone!)
She slid gently into my lap,
Soapsuds still behind her ears.
I rocked her until her head began to droop,
And her eyes closed.
I lifted her chubby little frame,
Carefully lowered her into the crib,
And slowly drew the bright, clean blankets under her chin.

Night Eyes

When the sun goes down,
shadows lengthen, cool air appears,
evening draws nigh:
Lights go on in every house,
'Tis then that little night eyes
are watching;
watching a world at rest, at peace,
or asleep: watching children, adults,
and teen-agers as well.
Do not fear, little ones,
night's eyes are watching from the wall,
sill, ceiling, and door.
Little night eyes are watching,
guarding, protecting.
Adults at rest, at peace, the day has passed.
Thoughtful night eyes are watching,
pondering, questioning, and hoping.
Teen-agers on dates, at home, or just relaxing, night's eyes are with you, watching, guiding, caring, helping, and praying.
It matters not what you do,
or who you are, the night is yours.
It is your friend:
Night's eyes are watching.

Courage

All of them tried to remain calm,
But extreme tension showed in their faces.
They moved slowly, but surely,
Ever forward;
The iron gate had been passed
And now, so had the entrance door.
Only one final door remained.
Shawn Lee, the chosen leader, opened it slowly.
Fear gripped them, but continue they must.
So, very timidly, and yet
Very bravely,
The five Negro children seated themselves
In the once all-white school.

Night Window

I opened the window tonight
not so much with plan
of letting out the day
as of letting in the night . . .
 . . . letting in the flashings of a lone neon sign on a gas station down the way,
 and winds that would carry me, in spirit,
 to cities that I envision
 from seeing that flashing;
 . . . letting in a moiety of the moon,
 its diffusive glow
 that would stir my thoughts
 to romantic things;
 . . . letting in the sound of crickets' serenade,
 the smell of grass, new-mown and unraked,
 and the taste of freshness in the air
 to alert my senses.
I opened the window tonight,
not so much with plan
of letting out the dying day
as of letting in the living night.

The Living Ocean

A huge wave gracefully glides in
From the slightly turbulent waters
Of the Pacific shores of an island.
How easily this great wave
Rolls from shore to shore.
How much easier it would be
For man to cross the weary gulf
From life to death
If he were graceful and as carefree
As an ocean's wave.
If the waves could speak,
What a vivid account of battles
And plunderings at sea
Would come to light. But no,
The waves will roll on for eons
And always remain silent spectators
To the happenings of man.

The Season

They say that fall is beautiful,
But "beautiful" is an old word, a tired word.

I say that fall is scarlet, wine-red
Leaves forming archways along
Tree-lined streets and conversing
With their fallen companions below.

"I Love You"

"I love you"
Printed with childish hands.
"I love you"
Decorated with penciled hearts.
She had left the little note there
To surprise me.
Instead, it was a sharp reminder
Of the times when she,
Trying to mimic me,
Had presented her lipsticked,
Perfumed self for approval
And I had sharply told her,
"Get that terrible looking paint off
And stay out of my stuff.
Of the times when she had asked me,
"Will you help me with this, please?"
And I, worried and hurried
With bigger, more important things,
Had mumbled,
"I'm busy; ask someone else."
I went to her bedroom
And gazed at my littlest sister's sprawling, growing-up form.
Tomorrow I will walk more softly
And talk gently, with a smile.

DEAR OHS FRIENDS,

I really can't believe that my year with you has passed already. I am anxious to see my family and friends again, but, at the same time, I am very sad to be leaving Oshkosh.

When I first arrived here, everything was new to me, but it was you who made me feel like at home. I'm very grateful to the AFS which made my dream come true, but I am more grateful to you people who made my stay here in Oshkosh an exciting experience and unforgettable. I don't think there are many people who have two home towns, two alma maters, and two families!!

I can't imagine OHS without its wonderful student council whose decisions are so important to the student body. I was surprised to see that the school paper is strictly a student publication. I could hardly believe that "Snow Boat" was played only by high school students. After I saw "A Man Called Peter," I have been convinced that everything OHS puts on is good. Football games, which I had never seen before, and basketball games were so exciting that I couldn't wait for Friday night. Oshkosh High is a wonderful school full of smiling, friendly people.

My one year with you is completely filled with wonderful, unforgettable memories. I have to leave because I agreed to when I came, but, just remember, every single one of you is welcome to come to Japan just as you all welcomed me. I sincerely hope that I will see you again soon.

American Field Service

FELLOW STUDENTS:

As I reflect how all too quickly my high school years have sped by, the honor of serving as our exchange student stands out as my most cherished experience. I am grateful for the privilege of representing you in Sweden. The insight gained in human relationships will forever be a part of my life, and I hope that, in turn, I was able to give them an understanding of the way you and I live.

The American Field Service is perhaps the greatest means we have to increase friendship and peace in our turbulent world; it strengthens the personal bonds that make us all a part of mankind. Science works to bring the world together; AFS works to HOLD the world together. To be part of such a program is an unforgettable experience in learning to live with others. It is good to know that through the years my school has given this plan its wholehearted support.

And so, to my Swedish family and friends, to AFS, and to all of you at Oshkosh High, my deepest gratitude.

Our Teams Make Life Exciting

Rugged football games . . . exciting basketball tournaments . . . the roar of the crowd . . . all these things go to make up the spirit that is Oshkosh High.

Almost from the beginning, OHS has had an active sports program. True, there was no Fox Valley Conference, but, in addition to Appleton and Fond du Lac, we took on such schools as Neenah, Menasha, Ripon, and the Junior Teams of Lawrence College. (Green Bay was MUCH too far away!) Down through the years many honors have come to our school, honors not only in the major sports but in tennis, baseball, golf, and track as well. Generations of "Indians" and their fine coaches have given us their very best.

As we move our hard-earned trophies from their cases in the front hall to a place of honor in the new school, we are linking our past glories and achievements with those we are sure will come our way in the years that lie ahead.

H^o

I really never have changed it what I've ever had since we were coming down after school for across that wild be playing a pleasure for me to be able to play with you. It has certainly been a wonderful three years

Best of luck always

For Michi, her first Homecoming is just sheer ecstasy.

"Feast on East" and an assist from Michi gave 411 A first prize.

The Big Day

Homecoming! Hurrah! For weeks we anticipated the event — working out ideas for floats, for homeroom decorations, or for skits, and electing an elegant court. And then — it came, October 21st! We tried to concentrate on routine — we really did — but the Homecoming spirit was in our blood. It was that spirit which carried us through the whole day — through the pep meeting, the parade, the potlucks and the game right up to the last notes of the last dance.

Says Joe Bauer to Steve Schettie, "Mum's the word"

The Reference Library "team" came through with a second place win.

HOMECOMING

But even then it did not die. The same spirit that filled the air on Algoma Boulevard will be carried along to Sawyer Avenue where there will be more floats, more mums, and another queen.

Virile Varsity

After a slow start, our Indians began to click and for the rest of the season they really mowed 'em down. Chief "mower", or most valuable player named by the squad . . . Glenn Miller!

They climb the stairs to greatness . . . they hope!

Buelow, Kittoe, Shirley, Pahlow, Emrich, Tully . . .
Rah! Rah! Rah!

We prove that our opponents are "pushovers."

Hi-Lights

MADISON EAST (19) — OHS (0): All our scoring attempts failed and we were defeated in our only non-conference game.

GREEN BAY WEST (7) — OHS (6): On the mud-covered Packer stadium the Wildcats splashed over the Indians.

APPLETON (0) — OHS (14): Our team thrilled the fans by overthrowing the Terrors in our first home game.

SHEBOYGAN SOUTH (0) — OHS (27): Plowing over the Redmen, the Indians established themselves in the winning column.

SHEBOYGAN NORTH (0) — OHS (27): We were determined to show no partiality in Sheboygan.

GREEN BAY EAST (0) — OHS (6): Our Homecoming was complete when we really "Dumped the Devils"!

MANITOWOC (14) — OHS (21): A last minute touchdown broke the tie in the most exciting game of the season.

FOND DU LAC (0) — OHS (28): In a final burst of glory, we finished in second place in the Conference!

Anderson, Wilkinson, and Senderhauf perfect a key play while Alexander flirts with the camera.

Lange, Whitty, and Lentz are on the way.

Jay-Vees

The Junior Varsity football team had an excellent year and wound up in first place. Their record was 6-1 and their only loss was to Appleton (13-0). There were no real "stars" on the squad, just good, solid teamwork all the way plus the fine coaching of Mr. Betry and Mr. Flood.

Never Say Die

To look at the record, our Jay Vee basketball team is having, up to now (Jan. 30) a so-so season. But the record doesn't really tell the story. They've played some strong games and several losses were just a point or two. Along with the varsity, they're hoping that in the second half they'll find the range.

We all can't make varsity, but we all can, and many of us do, participate in a great variety of sports through our intramural program. For the team player, GAA and MIAA offer basketball, badminton, volleyball, table tennis, and bowling. Those who like to play it solo can enjoy golf, swimming, wrestling, and trampoline.

Hours

In the new school we hope to expand the program to include football, soccer, track, archery, and softball.

There's keen competition in all these sports and players can win letter, chevrons, medals, and trophies. Most important, of course are the "fringe benefits" — physical fitness, friendships, and fun. If you're going to be around next year, come out for intramurals and see for yourself.

Tension rises . . . so do the boys and the ball.

Barb Boeder and Karen Radig took the advice on the poster and came out on top.

They Have Reached the Top

Commencement is a time of mixed emotions. As we make the long march across the athletic field, we're happy, of course, to have reached our goal, but, we're sad, too — sad when we realize how much we are leaving behind us.

It has always been that way with seniors, even in that very first class of four eager graduates. Outwardly, of course, there have been many changes — changes in the course of study, changes in the extra-curricular program — but these are all externals; inside, we've stayed the same.

We've complained about homework, worried about tests, dreamed about our date for the big dance . . . ! Yes, whether our memories include tandem bicycles or sports cars, hoop skirts or blue jeans, box socials or pot lucks, the waltz or rock-'n'-roll, they are all memories to be cherished.

And whether we stood with a handful of others — all arrayed in our Sunday best — to receive our diplomas from the stage of the auditorium, or whether, 600 strong, we march proudly in our caps and gowns — a long, blue line across a bright green field — we share the same hopes and fears and dreams of every senior who has ever stood on the threshold of tomorrow!

Roses are red
Violets are blue,
Some people are in basket
Why aren't you?

P.S. "Good luck" in Aspin.
Hope you "knock" them dead.

At the Head of the Class

The steering committee from the Sophomore Class Council meets to plan their first class elections: Sandy Line, Bill Cowan, Ann Keefe, and Brad Munson.

Senior officers eagerly line up the committees for the prom: Steve Cowan, Vice President; Nancy Reamer, Secretary; Bob Dahl, President; Lynn Loots, Treasurer.

Junior class officers figure the total collections of their class dues: Steve Haverty, Vice President; Jim Wood, Treasurer; Sue Englund, Secretary; Curt Nordquist, President.

A Tribute

Miss Josslyn . . .

You have

spent hundreds of hours
given up entire evenings and weekends instructing and guiding the staff typing every word of copy sent to the printer making arrangements for pictures
— taking many of them yourself contacting the students, the faculty, the company for a thousand different reasons

You have allowed your dining room to become a staff office satisfied our after-school appetites with cookies and candy

lightened our work with your many witticisms.

You have been kind in your criticism and generous in your praise.

You have been an inspiration to all of us.

And we will not forget you.

Miss Josslyn,

we thank you

— on behalf of everyone —

who has had the good fortune to feel your influence . . .

Miss Josslyn

Dear Miss Josslyn,

In March, when the last section of the book was sent to the printer, you thought this page was going to be an autograph page; it was organized to be one and the material sent to the printer.

But we on the staff did not feel that the Notebook should go without some mention of the tremendous job you have done as its advisor for fifteen years. So, with Mr. Traeger's permission and signature we requested the printer to substitute this page for the autograph page. We wanted others to know what we know about you.

Music for Moderns

Each year since 1955 the 'OHS band, under the direction of Mr. Croft, has presented a "Music for Moderns" show and each has been marked by variety and quality. Opus #6 was no exception. It was highlighted by Don McCathren who is billed as the world's most versatile clarinetist. He thrilled the capacity audience with his version of FIVE DANCES FOR FIVE CLARINETS. The program ranged from the classics to the modern and included a fascinating dance routine. Artistic staging added a professional touch to the presentation.

The Teen-Tones-Plus-Four sing a medley of songs by Jerome Kern.

Chief Croft steps up to direct the "Fire House Special" (a selection with, shall we say, a great deal of fire.)

White gloves and unusual musical instruments were the props in the number "Tango for Band."

N. Wertsch, B. Almers, P. Emrich, S. Pahlow, and C. Streich in a dance arrangement by choreographer Richard Verhoven.

Student Code Week

The week was a big success. As it has been in previous years, the project was planned by the Student Council to show what improvements can be made with a little extra effort, and to keep before the student body the high ideals set forth in the code. This was the time-table for the week:

Monday: Open Student Council Meeting.

Tuesday: Color Day

Wednesday: Perfect attendance day

Thursday: Top Ten Day

Friday: Dress-up Day and Teacher Appreciation Day.

J. Pierce gives in and buys a carnation from C. Stadtmueller on Dress-Up Day.

Deciding that it is futile to try to keep things picked up, Mr. Bunke leans back and watches the fun

The lunch hour riot begins at Greaseville High — in the Student Council pep skit on Tuesday.

This is only a fraction of the whole as we gathered in the rec. gym on Color Day.

C. Scoville, only one of hundreds of gals hoping her feet will hold her up for the rest of Dress-Up Day.

Last summer we saw the Pollack Pool nearing completion. This summer we'll be splashing about in the finished product.

(RIGHT) "Behind the wheel" sessions of Driver Ed. began in June and some 300 students like these learned about cars from the inside out.

We were lucky, too, in another new "veteran." Mrs. Moss, teacher of English and French, came to take over when Miss Simpson became Mrs. Lerner and left to join her husband.

Mrs. Lerner's advanced French class bids good-bye to her with a replica of the Eiffel Tower.

When we got back last fall, we were sorry to learn that Miss Larsen had broken her hip and would not be with us. However, we were fortunate to have in her stead Mrs. Rusch, an English teacher of experience and ability, whom many of us remember so pleasantly from other times when she has substituted in our school.

... the Memories

... There was entertainment of high calibre in "A Man Called Peter," in "Showboat" in the Christmas Concert, and in "Music for Moderns." There were the Student Council projects, the oratory and essay contests, the teas and potlucks, and the sprakling issues of the INDEX. There was so very much that we don't quite know how we did it all, but we do know that we loved it.

Student Council sponsored many successful dances including the one in Cactus City. This group of "natives" donned western duds and proved they were no dudes.

Time flew and before we knew it basketball was upon us.

Homecoming, 1960 was an exciting time. With inspiring incentives such as this front lawn display, our Indians went on to "Dump the Devils"!

Our football team had a terrific season.

For the fine role he plays in the Music dept., Mr. Leist gets a roll-er cake for his birthday. D. Pfeil makes the presentation.

The faculty enjoyed "tea and crumpets: Miss Habstritt, Miss Schlerf and Mrs. Isaacson, gourmets all, select some delicacies.

Winner Kristy Frank with runners-up Roger Ernst and Bob Hammerichs spent long hours preparing for the Voice of Democracy contest.

This is a picture of me but it is quite a good one. I looked like a fool.
Tom

Several exchange students attended the Christmas dance, "Holiday Hello." Perhaps "auld acquaintance" was renewed when Wivi from Sweden met J. Yarne, our summer "ambassador" to that land

of Pot Lucks

and Pep Rallies - - -

The blended voices of the colorful Madrigals were a high point of the Christmas concert.

This is probably what I will remember you most. I hope you will be as talented as you are now. I hope you will grow. I hope you will be a somebody in the future.
Jim Peters

Senior Girls was truly "Mistletoe Magic" and we were enchanted. Best of all, we could still look forward to Senior Boys.

--- of Concerts and Contests ---

When we dropped our coins into the "voting machine" those last days of the first semester, we were doing two things, contributing to the march of dimes and selecting Lynn Loots to be our lovely Blue Crutch Queen.

At the ball, Lynn reigned regally with her escort, Fred Russler.

Semester change . . . the book exchange . . . lots of hard work for the librarians. ABOVE, C. Lloyd, D. Wright, N. Raddatz, D. Yarne, and S. Konrad check out the cards while Miss Josslyn and Mrs. Konrad check them right back in again!

- - - of the wonderful days at O. H. S.!

In the last pep skit of the year — produced by SLSC — Apple-Towner and Greenie-East try to overcome Osh-Team.

On February 21 the seniors were measured for cap and gown. M. Pierce and R. Triober watched while R. Barber underwent the "Ordeal."

"Pygmalion" was an ambitious production and a smashing climax to the year's dramatic activity. At this rehearsal, Mrs. Higgins (M. Hrnak) scolds her son (T. Butt) while Eliza (B. Schneider) looks on.

"Thespians Present"-ed variety on Feb. 23. Ernie Schmeisser, Howie Johnson, Dick Kuhn, and Tom Keefe — all sterling musicians — sang "You've Gotta Have Heart."

For the last big oratorical contest of the year, finalists Kristy Frank, Roger Ernst, Tom Hayes, and Gail Floether look over some material on "My True Security." The next day Tom Hayes was declared the winner.

Our sincere appreciation goes to Mr. John Thompson of ZERNICKE'S STUDIO who, for many years, has done all of our major photography entirely without cost to us. We'd like to say a word about the division pages Mr. Thompson created to carry out the theme of this year's book — "A Year of Transition." The original pictures were taken in the old building and then were superimposed onto shots of interiors in the new school. We think the effect is unusual and we hope you do, too.

At the old school on I-10, the 1960s Sunday

They are the ones who enable the orphaned to find a home, who have the children of sorrow
 Their laughter and joy are here.
 She comforts and sympathizes in their distress,
 Smiles at their triumphs and glories
 Without them she is nothing.

That it was a fright when all it took
And all desks and the halls are empty
The school cries for the youth to come again
And set her alive and surrounding with laughter
A rumor has been heard of a rival to the west
Low sleek modern diving
The school cries a little harder now on lonely nights
Soon the rival will call and the old school will be empty
Void of the children the youth

Hi Nancy —

Gee, all the fun we've had I couldn't even write. I know you'll do a great job at school next year 'cause that's the way you've been all along. Best of luck to you in everything, & I'll be waiting to hear your name announced as the latest star at the Met! (Or is Broadway your cup of tea?) Good luck.
